

Brenda Cox Harkins

Creator of Loud Is Not A Language®

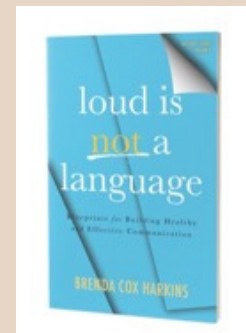

The loud dynamics of our world negatively impact our relationships, communication, and influence. Learn the power of understanding even without agreeing. Build foundations of trust and watch enemies become allies. Loud attitudes, which sometimes include volume, shut down positive change. Loud is not a language. Loud damages trust. Loud manipulates. Loud's influence doesn't last. When you understand the LINAL® thought framework, doors open for productive conversations and future influence, despite differences.
